Boy Scouts

Milestones of the World Scouting 1907-57

The Late Alfred Scherb Collection

The Exhibition collection «From Jamboree to Jamboree» documents the first nine Jamborees from the first World Jamboree 1920 at Olympia / Richmond, London up to the Jubilee event 1957 in Sutton Park Birmingham; thereafter continuing with the Worldwide Boys Scout Movement with Highlights of the early Scouts' movements in Tsarist Russia in 1910, the Scout Movement in Czechoslovakia in 1918/19, Thailand Scout Issues 1920/24 as well as National Jamborees held in Romania (1934/36), All India Jamboree (1937) in Delhi, The Polish Boy Scouts Postal Service during the Warsaw Uprising 1944 and a study of the Displaced Persons Camps post after WWII in Germany.

On January 24, 1908, the Boy Scouts movement began in England with the publication of the first installment of Robert Baden-Powell's handbook 'Scouting for Boys'. Boys loved the lessons on tracking, observation and organized elaborate games using the book. Hearing this, Baden-Powell decided to write a non-military field manual for adolescents that would also emphasize the importance of morality and good deeds. First, however, he decided to try out some of his ideas on an actual group of boys. On July 25, 1907, he took a diverse group of 21 adolescents to Brownsea Island in Poole Harbour, Dorsetshire where they set up camp for a fortnight. With the aid of other instructors, he taught the boys about camping, observation, deduction, woodcraft, boating, life-saving, patriotism, and chivalry. Many of these lessons were learned through inventive games that were very popular with the boys. The first Boy Scouts meeting was a great success. With the success of Scouting for Boys, Baden-Powell set up a central Boy Scouts office, which registered new Scouts and designed a uniform. By the end of 1908, there were 60,000 Boy Scouts, and troops began springing up in British Commonwealth countries across the globe. In September 1909, the first national Boy Scout meeting was held at the Crystal Palace in London. Over ten thousand Scouts attended, including a group of uniformed girls who called themselves the Girl Scouts. In 1910, Baden-Powell organized the Girl Guides as a separate organization.

1944 (August 1 to October 2), Scout's Post during the Warsaw Uprising

Scout's Post during the Warsaw Uprising

1944 (August 1 to October 2)

The Polish Scout's Postal Service played a key role in maintaining contact between the inhabitants in the Warsaw Ghetto. Communication was maintained by messengers or couriers: 10 to 15 year old Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of the 'Grey Ranks'. The 'Grey Ranks' was the wartime name of the Polish Scouting Movement and by the time of the 1944 Uprising August 1 to October 2, and had developed an excellent organisational Network.
